Live the Dream is an education and support group for those who, originally inspired by the writings of Robert Heinlein, Robert Rimmer, and Marion Zimmer Bradley, are now ready to LIVE such alternative lifestyles as cooperative living, open relationships, and group marriage. Many of our concepts on multiply committed relationships come from Heinlein's Stranger in a Strange Land and Moon is a Harsh Mistress. Live the Dream also sponsors a nest of Church of All Worlds, the real life, over fifty-year-old spiritual movement inspired by Stranger in a Strange Land.

Cooperative Living: from Family Synergy's Allott House in the 70s to Live the Dream's Penfield House 2024 & Paul's 70th Birthday Celebration!

Location: 3139 Ridgeview Dr, Altadena, CA. This event is Live only at a lovely home with pool and jacuzzi. Zoom & Live returns for February 17 meeting.

Paul will talk about his Poly life and group living experiences from age 19 to present. He came from Cleveland to LA for a Star Trek Convention...and stayed. The Allott House was Family Synergy's group living example as well as its meeting and party house in the late 70s. Terry and Paul met there when she and her first husband Richard brought their children to a Family Synergy Passover Seder led by group founder Hy Levy. The group went to concerts, movies and social gatherings together.

They had fun. There, Paul learned what it was like to have all the sex you could handle and what followed when there was time to build a RELATIONSHIP. Penfield House, bought by Terry and Paul (then in a triad with Marcus) in 2003, was in part an attempt to recreate some of that experience which lasts into the present. Though he now spends much of his time in Phoenix with his wife, Athena, they stay a part of the group house through frequent visits like this one for Paul's birthday as well as sharing such things as weekend getaways, Thanksgiving, summer vacations and Winter Holiday vacations together...while Terry and her husband, Craig share the Penfield House with other members of their still active group household. Polyamory and group living offer many options.

This event is at the beautiful Altadena home of Rolf & Cynthia. Beautiful pool, hot tubs (with a view across the mountains of JPL!), yard and house: ALL clothing optional!

1 pm Pot Luck Lunch Bring something healthy and delicious to share

Pool and jacuzzi available all afternoon, unless it is raining in which case we will be inside.

Group Living Experiences:1978 to Present

By Terry Brussel-Rogers

Many people together can live cheaper and a whole lot nicer than that same number could live separately. Over the years at our Live The Dream gatherings we've done an exercise in which we have everyone write down what they could afford to pay down for a home, what they could pay monthly, where they want to live, what kind of people they want to live with, etc. Invariably, we discover that living together costs less, is more luxurious, and is quite affordable for most people. not engender long term commitments. It is adult only and ends under disturbing circumstances when the owner changes location due to job opportunities and does not keep the rent paid. Some of the tenants move into other places together. One of these tenants is our speaker for Live the Dream's January 2024 meeting, Paul Gibbons, who will tell us more about it.

1986: Kathy Mar (professional Filk -Science Fiction folk singer/song writer) sings of a group house with many children and adults living there—one of the first she put together. Some stayed, some left, but when she lost her 11 year old son to an illness, they were right there to support her in every way they could. It meant the world to her. She and her new partner Dean (who finally became her legal husband the year their twins turned 30) established another group house with 6 to 9 adults and 3 to 7 kids at any given time . My second husband Paul and I visited many times over the years including several holiday gatherings. There did not seem to be much differentiation made by Kathy and Dean between kids who were theirs and those who were someone else's or even between those who lived there or were the kids of dear friends in science fiction fandom. They were en local parentis whenever needed. These kids bring their kids to holiday gatherings, etc. to this day and on it goes...Paul and I just visited there with our legal spice Athena and Craig during a visit to Dickens Christmas Faire in December 2023.

1995:A friend of a friend stays with us a while in our 1100 square space in Sylmar, Ca. to help edit my System of Hypnotherapy for use by other hypnotists. The “while” becomes 16 years between two houses until he passes on in 2011. Back to the Sylmar house-2000: My then husband Paul and I meet artist Marcus Jenkins at a Family Synergy gathering in our home. We come to love him and are handfasted with him in a Braiding ceremony 2001. He moves into that 1100 square foot home. My Dad has some heart issues and stays with us off and on. 1100 square feet was not enough! Time to find a bigger place. We had a Group Living themed Live the Dream meeting, did that exercise mentioned in the first paragraph of this article, and discovered that our dear friend writer Will Jarvis was a candidate for our next group house. He moved with us into our new 3000 square foot place on Penfield (West San Fernando Valley) in 2003. He lived with us until 2018 when he moved out to care for my best friend's father in his home. Pop turned 103 in October of 2020...Will is with us again at this writing as Pop passed on in April of 2021. Marcus lived with us until 2019 and is still part of our lives. People moved in and out over that time including Paul himself when we separated in 2008. It has had as many as seven adults at once. Melissa and her two year old son moved out after six months in mid December 2018 to accept a job in northern California. December 2023 At present there are myself, my husband Craig (computer systems analyst and musician, married 4-28-18), John DeChancie (a widely published SF writer) Rita, (a retired nurse who trades housekeeping for rent and works as secretary for my home based hypnotherapy practice) and Cody, who rents a room and helps with chores. Paul and his wife Athena live in Pheonix, but visit every month or so for a few days or a week. We have a double queen bed big enough for the four of us when they are in residence. We do vacations together summer and winter, birthdays and such holidays as Thanksgiving , Hanukkah, and New Years. The four of us, John and Will are all involved in SF fandom.

Advantages of Group Living—from a Penfield House room for rent ad posted on poly bulletin boards, science fiction conventions, and nudist gatherings—each group addressed specifically in the posting meant for them. Some version of this might be used for the group house you create.

“ Imagine coming home to a beautiful house, a well kept yard filled with flowers and trees. There is space for a garden if you have a green thumb. The fire place may be lit if it is winter. You come home to the smell of something delicious being cooked by one of your housemates. Or perhaps you are the housemate doing that cooking—that nurturing.

You share a good dinner with whoever is at home tonight. Afterward, you might enjoy the massage chair, go to the privacy of your room, soak in the clothing optional hot tub with good friends, join a lively discussion in the living room or cuddle with your special someone by the fire.

We share meals, holidays, birthdays, special occasions and hugs as well as household chores. Make your fantasy a reality!

November 11, 2022 was the official launch date for Fifty Years of Polyamory in America: A Guided Tour of a Growing Movement by Glen Olson and Terry Brussel-Rogers published by Rowman and Littlefield. It is being used in research papers on polyamory as well as being a fascinating read.. Between them, Terry and Glen have experience with open marriage, group marriage, group living and both are part of an intimate network which has evolved from 1969 to present time.

Fifty Years of Polyamory in America: A Guided Tour to a Growing Movement is unique among the many books about polyamory because the scope of this book is the entire history of the polyamory movemem Woodstock right on into the 21st century. The book is available on Amazon, Barnes and Noble, and many other places—even international-- just by Googling its title.

The publishers are continuing to put this book in more and more universities and libraries!
